AUSTRALIA'S PRINCIPAL PROVIDER OF MASSAGE EQUIPMENT

IS THE NATIONAL CODE NATIONAL?

The "National Code of Conduct", is to protect the public by setting minimum standards of conduct and practice for all unregistered health care workers who provide a health service,, including massage therapists.

It is up to each state and territory to implement the National Code in their jurisdiction.

QLD, NSW, South Australia and Victoria each have a version of the National Code.

In Western Australia the Health and Disability Services Complaints Office is reviewing the results from a "discussion paper".

NT is reviewing the results of their consultation process.

Tasmania is currently reviewing their code. There are legislative requirements that need to be accepted to bring it in line with the National Code.
